What is ICANN

Unique Names and Numbers

Anything connected to the Internet – including computers, mobile phones, and other devices – has a unique number called an IP address. IP stands for Internet Protocol.

This address is like a postal address. It allows messages, videos, and other packets of data to be sent from anywhere on the Internet to the device that has been uniquely identified by its IP address.

IP addresses can be difficult to remember, so instead of numbers, the Internet's Domain Name System uses letters, numbers, and hyphens to form a name that is easier to remember.

ICANN's Mission

The mission of the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN) is to ensure the stable and secure operation of the Internet's unique identifier systems

Specifically, ICANN:

-  1 Coordinates the allocation and assignment of names in the root zone of the Domain Name System
-  2 Coordinates the development and implementation of policies concerning the registration of second-level domain names in generic top-level domains (gTLDs)
-  3 Facilitates the coordination of the operation and evolution of the DNS root name server system
-  4 Coordinates the allocation and assignment at the top-most level of Internet Protocol numbers and Autonomous System numbers
-  5 Collaborates with other bodies as appropriate to provide registries needed for the functioning of the Internet as specified by Internet protocol standards development organizations

The Community

- ⦿ ICANN brings together a volunteer community of individuals from industry, noncommercial and government representatives to discuss, debate and develop policies about the technical coordination of the Domain Name System (DNS).
- ⦿ These volunteers are dedicated to keeping the Internet secure, stable and interoperable.
- ⦿ More than 2,000 people are expected at the meeting, hailing from more than 120 countries.

ICANN Ecosystem

Exploring ICANN's Multistakeholder Community

ICANN Ecosystem

- ⦿ At the heart of ICANN’s policymaking is what is called a “multistakeholder model”. This decentralized governance model places individuals, industry, noncommercial interests, and government on an equal level.
- ⦿ Bottom-up, consensus driven policymaking. Internet governance mimics the structure of the Internet, borderless and open to all.
- ⦿ Supporting Organizations are responsible for developing and making policy. Advisory Committees advise the ICANN Board, and, in certain cases, can raise issues for policy development.

How Does the Community Develop Policy?

Advisory Committees can participate during the process

- At-Large Advisory Committee
- Security and Stability Advisory Committee
- Root Server System Advisory Committee
- Governmental Advisory Committee

A Sample of Topics Being Covered at ICANN67

Topics of Interest at ICANN67

---

- ⊙ Public Forums
  - Community Dialogue on the Proposed Transfer of Ownership of the Public Interest Registry
- ⊙ New gTLD subsequent procedures
  - GNSO/GAC
- ⊙ DNSSEC Workshop
  - Security/Technical
- ⊙ EPDP's on Registration Data
  - Phase 1: how to handle the data and; Phase 2: how to be accessed
- ⊙ Universal Acceptance
  - UASG, IDN's

What is Your Stakeholder Category?

Community Structures, Topics and Sessions of Interest at ICANN67

Stakeholder Categories

---

For a general overview of the community, a simplified grouping of stakeholder “categories” can be helpful.

- ⦿ Technical Community
- ⦿ Businesses
- ⦿ Civil Society and End Users
- ⦿ Governments

Many additional categories - and sub categories - such as academics, law enforcement, media, consumer advocates, attorneys, etc. are also important parts of the community and found throughout these categories.

ICANN67 Virtual Sessions for Technical Stakeholders

ICANN Learn – <https://learn.icann.org>

Free online learning platform with interactive courses designed to teach the ICANN community about technical, policy, and skill-building topics. Why not start with 102 Introduction to ICANN? It is available in seven languages.

Newcomer Day –

This session is being led by the LAC team in lieu of the onsite Newcomer Day for ICANN67.

Please NOTE: Fellows have been deferred to participate at ICANN69 in Hamburg and the NextGen have been deferred to participate at ICANN70 taking place in Cancun. Once on site. They will participate in the Newcomer Day Program which is a series of informative, interactive discussions about ICANN and the Internet ecosystem held in a casual atmosphere led by staff and community members.

ICANN Engagement Booth

The ICANN Engagement booth is in place for Newcomers, ICANN org and the ICANN community to engage in discussions. It is supported by volunteers from the community, including members of ICANN's Supporting Organizations and Advisory Committees.
